Kashia International Ocean Calendar Project

KDEP is collaborating with MANIFESTO OCEAN to develop an international Kashia ocean calendar which can be shared with youth around the world including Spain. The International 2022 Calendar will highlight personal bonds with the ocean and include artwork developed by Kashia youth for the "ʔAma:t'i bak'he ʔacaʔ ahq'a," Water Is Life Art Contest.

Inspired by the Manifesto Atlantico, a 2020/2021 calendar created by the Galician community of Espana, this project aims to cultivate an awareness of the need to take care of the ocean.

Additional Youth Artwork Requested Grades K-12 accepted

THEME: Submit a work of art that shows your connection with the ocean.

Include name, contact info and grade.

Winners will receive a $25 gift card.

DEADLINE: August 20, 2021

Artwork can be dropped off at the Kashia Tribal Office or emailed to Abreanna Gomes abby@stewartspoint.org.

Youth Interviews

Youth whose artwork is included in the calendar will be asked to interview a relative about the ocean. The question of focus will be "What does the ocean mean to you/What is your connection to the ocean?"

All interviewees will receive a $25 gift card.

Participants Needed for BML - KDEP Partnership Project

• Kashia Department of Environmental Planning (KDEP) is partnering with UC Davis Bodega Bay Marine Lab (BML) in order to understand how climate change and ocean acidification are affecting sea life.

• We are seeking Tribal members who have knowledge of the coast. Participants will be asked multiple questions about their experiences/observations.

• You may choose to be interviewed at the Tribal office or by Zoom. We are open to other options if need be.

Participants will receive a stipend of $25 per hour for their participation
