Connor Smith

I'm very lucky to have been able to be a representative for Native Americans in this region and my home tribe. My senior year was about self-discovery and finding a path that I want to continue in. I found my passion for video editing and directing, and believe that this is the direction of my life that I want to see continue.

KASHIA GRADUATES

Marcos Richard Oakes graduated with a honor cord and three scholarships. He has been accepted to Sacramento State University and is looking to major in filmmaking. Marcos is committed to his culture and traditional dancing.

He has been employed since the age of 15 and is positively driven and ambitious. He is Indigenous First Nation Mohawk and Kashia Pomo; he aspires to be a filmmaker.

Kashia School Superintendent/Principal and Teacher Aide Needed

Superintendent/principal full time also helps in the classroom 50%

Teacher- full time needs multiple subject credential

Teacher Aide- 4 hrs. daily

Resource teacher- mild moderate 2 days a week

The school has an emphasis on environmental studies and cultural arts. We welcome anyone with experience and knowledge of the Pomo Kashia culture. Class size is small, usually 10-12 students in a multi-grade classroom. The parents are very helpful and supportive of the school. It is a wonderful setting in the redwoods and close to the ocean, perfect for someone who wants a rural lifestyle.

Please call the school to arrange for a visit or email us. fjohnson@scoe.org school: (707) 785-9682 cell: (347) 677-3349

Kashia THPO Department

The THPO Office is working with the Kashia School on a Cultural Native Garden, the garden has Native Kashia plants. The goal is to help teach the kids the names of the plants and their function. We've been teaching them how to say the plant names in our language and what our people used them for. The Kashia School, THPO Office, our Outreach Worker and the E.P.A Office are all working on this together.
